

Air Boxcar Wrecked In Southern France; 36 Americans Dead

CHAMBON-SUR-LAC, France — (AP) — Rescue crews today found the shattered snow-crusted wreckage of a missing U. S. Air Force transport plane 5,000 feet up a mountain slope in southern France. All aboard were dead.

American and French rescuers began bringing the battered burned bodies of the 36 passengers and crewmen—all U. S. military personnel—down the side of the mountain where the twin-engined flying box car crashed Tuesday.

Rescue teams who fought their way up the snow and ice encrusted slope 250 miles south of Paris said most of the fire-scarred bodies were battered to bits by the crash.

The plane's two engines had buried themselves into the snowcrusted soil and the fuselage apparently had burst open.

A team of French soldiers first sighted the wreckage just after dawn. They had trekked afoot and on skis all night, through a three-foot snow layer, to reach the crash scene. Later they were joined by 10 U. S. Air Force rescue workers.

The plane disappeared Tuesday on a routine flight from Frankfurt to Bordeaux with 29 airmen, a U. S. soldier and six crewmen aboard. It crashed into a peak in the Mont Dore group some 20 miles south of Clermont Ferrand. Chambon residents said the weather at the time of the crash was foggy, with visibility very limited.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Drive Launched For Pay Lift In Steel Industry

By NORMAN WALKER
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP) —

The CIO launched a drive today to boost wages in the steel industry.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and head of the 1,000,000 member steelworkers union, assembled his steel wage-policy committee to map new contract demands.

Strike Is Possible

The situation held the possibility of an eventual steel industry strike which could throttle output of the metal most needed to out-muscle Soviet Russia.

The steel union has only four or five cents hourly coming under the wage stabilization board's present contract.

Murray was reported attempting to figure some way to compensate worker "productivity" or a similar means to get more money for the steel workers. There was some speculation that he may attempt to crack the present wage stabilization formula.

Behind Eight-Ball

Murray said workers in steel and other industries have been left behind the "eight ball" in the economic scramble and they should get more money.

The steel industry was reported to be generally responding to a questionnaire sent by Murray's aids probing ability to pay a sizable pay increase to steelworkers.

Murray's demands for improvements of pay and working conditions in the steel industry were unknown. But the union's wage policy committee was reported to be discussing living cost increases and better worker output.

Industrialist And Wife Rescued From Palmer Woods Fire

DETROIT — (AP) — Firemen rescued industrialist Lloyd H. Diehl and his wife, Irene, from a $100,000 blaze at 4 a. m. today at their Palmer Woods home.

The couple were carried down ladders from the window of their second story bedroom. Diehl is chairman of the board of the Frankenmuth Brewing Co.

The fire had spread downstairs while a son, Gerald, 20, was running to a fire box a block away and he was unable to go to the aid of his parents. Young Diehl had discovered the den in flames after being awakened by smoke.

help of the U. S. Air Force which wouldn't have any part of it.

Garson suggested some time back that a real pole ought to be dropped at the North Pole. He even chipped in $150 of his money to have a 9-foot, hollow steel cylinder constructed and painted like a candy cane (or barber pole, if your inclinations are a little less romantic).

Mrs. Audree Vance, Fairbanks journalist and radio announcer, liked the idea and added suggestion—how about dropping off some "honest-to-goodness" letters to Santa Claus. "Fine," says Garson and it was a fait accompli (look it up yourself).

Alaska Airlines Chairman H. W. Marshall heard that the Air Force was taking an uppity attitude toward the project and offered to donate one of its four-engined specials for the 3,200 mile flight from International Airport, Fairbanks, Alaska.

Taft Tops Gen. Ike As No. 1 GOP Choice

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Robert A. Taft tops Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, 71 to 54, as the first choice of House Republicans for the GOP presidential nomination in a poll conducted by Rep. Cole (R-NY).

Results of the private survey, started in September and concluded this week, were disclosed by Cole today in the wake of California Gov. Earl Warren's announcement he is a candidate for the Republican nomination.

Only Two So Far

Warren's move yesterday put his hat formally in the ring along with Taft's. So far the Ohio senator and Warren are the only avowed candidates in either major party.

Eisenhower-for-president Republican backers are hard at work in his behalf, however, despite the general's refusal to say publicly whether he will run.

Senator Duff (R-Pa), one of the leaders of the move, announced in a New Orleans speech last night that Senator Lodge (R-Mass) will "accept the leadership" of a campaign to put Eisenhower in the White House. Duff said he and others have voiced confidence Eisenhower will be available when he feels he can leave his job as commander of North Atlantic forces in Europe.

Detroit Man First Hunting Casualty

The first casualty of the 1951 Michigan deer season was reported today (Thursday) before noon as some 400,000 hunters spread across the northern deer country.

Hunters found more snow than anticipated but continued to warm weather for the opening day of the hunt.

The State Conservation department reported Gerald Bouchard, 22, of Detroit in critical condition in Omer hospital with a .22 gauge shotgun slug in his abdomen. He was not expected to live.

He reportedly shot himself while hunting in Tawas township, Iosco county. The mishap occurred at 9:20 a. m.—a little more than two hours after the season opened. Last year 18 hunters were killed.

Troops Aroused Over News Of Slayings

By WILLIAM BARNARD

TOKYO — (AP) — The reported Communist slaughter of some 5,000 American prisoners of war shocked general headquarters from top to bottom today.

Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the war crimes section of the Eighth army, said he divulged the figures because he thought American soldiers at the front ought to know what they are up against.

In an exclusive interview in Pusan, Korea, Hanley said the story about the "wanton murder" of American prisoners "should have been put out a long time ago."

Trickery Revealed

Apparently no one knew he was going to make the statement—east of all Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who was duck hunting.

CONDENMED BY TRUMAN

KEY WEST, Fla.—(AP) — President Truman today condemned the murder of American prisoners by Chinese Communists as the most uncivilized thing that has happened in the last century. Mr. Truman voiced this indictment at a winter White House news conference in which he declared his views that the United Nations rather than "Big Four" conference should settle international disputes.

General headquarters officers, after conferring with Hanley by telephone, are preparing an announcement tonight for release tomorrow to clarify "the basis for some of Hanley's figures."

Allied troops generally had presumed the Chinese Reds treated their prisoners better than the DAWN OF A DEER HUNTERS DAY — Long before daylight today—opening morning of the 1951 Michigan deer season for gunners—camps in the snow-blanketed north woods were astir, as hunters rolled out of their bunks, prepared a breakfast with coffee "strong enough to float a spike," and then headed through the pre-dawn darkness to their runways or stands. Eleven Orphans Will Stay At Leonard, Mich.

PONTIAC, Mich.—(AP) — Charles

Moss, 73, and his wife, Stella, 68, shouldered the responsibility today of taking care of their 11 orphaned grandchildren.

"I am sure it will work out all right," said Mrs. Moss. "We will have plenty of help from relatives and friends."

The 11 children, sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Moore, were orphaned when their parents were killed in an automobile crash Saturday. Four teenagers in the second car also were killed.

The elderly grandparents will close their own home in neighboring Royal Oak and move to the nine-room home in nearby Leonard that the Moores obtained just six weeks before their death.

"It was the first place we ever had that was big enough for all of us," said Girard, 15, the oldest child.

The children were placed in care of their maternal grandparents by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore (no relation) yesterday. He named two uncles, Richard T. Moss and Arthur Mercurie, as guardians to watch after financial affairs of the orphans.

A trust fund has been started for them by neighbors and others touched by their plight. It already exceeds $2,000.

Books Show Michigan $13,500,000 In Red For Last Fiscal Year

LANSING — (AP) — Michigan's

government cost $601,500,000 in the 1950-51 fiscal year—and went $13,500,000 in the red.

But local units of government got $372,100,000 of the total, or 61.9 per cent of all the money passing through the state treasury.

These facts were made plain today as the state finally closed its books for the past fiscal year ending last June 30.

State controller Robert F. Steadman reported that the state's general fund deficit mounted from $21,300,000 to $40,850,000 during the fiscal year.

Steadman said the actual cost of operating state agencies rose only $3,800,000 or less than five per cent, or 11 per cent of the total general fund increase. Civil service pay raises and higher commodity prices accounted for the increase, he said.

The state's assets dropped almost $10,000,000, he said, to $60,500,000, while liabilities, reserves and restricted accounts jumped almost $10,000,000 to $101,400,000.

In fact, Steadman said the cash balance of the general fund has, at one point since June 30, fallen to $16,500,000, or less than two weeks' requirement of cash for state operations.

The final accounting showed that total state expenditures, including those going to local governments, rose $45,000,000—or eight per cent—over the preceding year.

Total revenues amounted to $829,000,000, an increase of $68,700,000 or 13 per cent over the previous year.

Steadman said that in the past three years, benefits to local governments have risen $101,400,000, or 37 per cent. All other state expenditures have risen 14 per cent, or $29,000,000.

Chest Campaign Goes Over Top

Thanks to the persevering work of hundreds of volunteer solicitors and generous donations by thousands of its residents, Delta county went "over the top" with a bang in the 1951 Community Chest campaign.

Contributions are still being received at Chest headquarters, 710½ Ludington street, Escanaba, but amounts received to date from Escanaba, Gladstone and the 14 townships in Delta county put the county well over the quota.

A total of $20,624.46 has been donated to date against a quota of $20,000. County Chairman Nicholas Chapekis announced this morning.

Townships Continue

Escanaba and Gladstone residents contributed materially to the over-the-goal figure, it was pointed out, and before final returns are in it is expected the 14 townships may reach their goal of $3,000.

Against a quota of $12,500, the Escanaba campaign resulted in contributions totalling $13,478.80, or $978.20 over the goal.

Against a quota of $4,500, Gladstone residents contributed $4,744.28, or $244.28 over the goal.

Township returns to date are $2,401.38. This is $598.62 short of the goal, but Chapekis emphasized that additional contributions

Upper Peninsula Public Health Nurses Organize

Twenty-seven Upper Peninsula public health nurses assembled in the Sault Friday for an organizational meeting, and to hear Esther L. Middlewood, director of health education for Michigan's Mental Health department.

The meeting, held in the undercroft of the St. James' Episcopal church, was arranged by the Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac health unit, and presided over by Marion Webster, staff nurse from the Mental Health department.

A second area is to bring parents to understand and accept emotional problems as a usual part of living. Miss Middlewood pointed out that many parents feel ashamed or unwilling for others to know that their child may be suffering from any kind of emotional disturbance, hence the child is brought up in a feeling of tension and insecurity which only accentuates the disorder.

The third area was one of community organization for better experience of parents. It was suggested that public health nurses not attempt treatment or recommend treatment, but rather, through community organizations, psycho-dramas like the "Scattered Showers" series, panels of discussion for parents, group meetings, and such, strive for a community understanding and a community attack on the problem.

Advice Given To Hunters

Take Compass And Map On Trip

Too many hunters will be returning from northern deer camps in late November and early December in worse shape than when they left, the conservation department emphasizes.

Preparing for the worst the weatherman can dish out goes a long way towards insuring a "successful" hunting trip in the Nov. 15-30 season. While a good segment of the deer-stalking force has remembered to take extra changes of warm clothing, and have proper camping equipment along including compass and map, the average deer camp is poorly fed.

Living out of cans and on fried food is not necessary all the time. Fresh fruits and other more suitable foods can be brought along and can be purchased at nearby village stores.

For those who have not already done so, the department suggests they notify the folks at home the camp location and expected hunting area. Both the Michigan state police and the conservation department have set up a free registration service for hunters who desire to be reached in emergencies.

A sober note for the red-coated clan is the fact that 18 did not come back last year and 55 others were injured. Eleven were killed and 21 injured by the guns of Gladstone hunters are always out bright and early—killed a spike horn while hunting at Ensign.

Misses as well as hits were reported today, and the first report of a full-scale miss comes from Stonington.

John and George Coan and Lowell Sundstrom of Escanaba sighted buck but did not sink same. Fact is they all fired and all missed. The target pranced away under the impression it had escaped a small atomic test blast.

Those Trophy Heads—Michigan's deer herd is the largest in the nation yet the Wolverine state is not represented in the top twenty deer trophy heads in the nation.

Around the hot stove league in camp the boys might discuss some of those prize bucks with majestic racks of antlers they have downed—or just seen—in the past.

With Deer Hunters This Was The Big Day

That proverbial crack of dawn today found thousands of Michigan deer hunters in the woods—and tonight they are back in camp with big bucks or bigger stories.

Tracking snow and colder weather presented a favorable opening in most of Northern Michigan.

But the first report of a trophy on the "big day" fell not to a hunter in a backwoods camp, but to Ed Scott of Gladstone Rt. 1, who shot an eight-point buck in his back yard at 7:15 a. m. today.

Not only that, but Scott also was the first to report success on the opening day of the season nine years ago. The buck he shot then was also killed near his home and weighed about the same as today's deer—200 pounds.

Other early-morning reports of hunting success came in the following order:

Jack Lynch, hunting on the Gladstone bluff, bagged a 10-pointer at 7:30 a. m. He drove to the bluff a short distance from the city of Gladstone, parked his car, stepped out and loaded his rifle—and the buck came along exactly on time.

Five minutes later, at 7:35 a. m., another Gladstone man, realtor Charles Burton, downed a eight-point buck on the Stonington Peninsula.

Several miles away and 10 minutes later (7:45 a. m.) F. R. Sebeck of Gladstone—those Gladstone hunters are always out bright and early—killed a spike horn while hunting at Ensign.

Misses as well as hits were reported today, and the first report of a full-scale miss comes from Stonington.

John and George Coan and Lowell Sundstrom of Escanaba sighted buck but did not sink same. Fact is they all fired and all missed. The target pranced away under the impression it had escaped a small atomic test blast.

OF ESCANABA, INC.

Leo Lavolette sr., 401 South 11th street, Escanaba. She and her husband and brother, Sgt. Leo Lavolette of the U. S. Air Force recruiting service were hunting today near Northland. Escanaba business and professional men are deserting the city for the deer country.

At the Hiawatha Sportsmen's club near Engadine are A. J. Goulais, William Bisdee, Dr. M. H. Garrard, Harold Meiers sr., Jack Manning and Harold Meiers jr.

The Sullivan camp was struck by lightning and burned last summer. But new construction was rushed—to be ready for occupancy by deer hunting season.

Gun safety was the subject of a pre-season meeting of the Mid-County Sportsmen's Club of Menominee at Stephenson in cooperation with the Stephenson high school and the department of conservation.

Clarence Lienna of Stephenson discussed gun safety. Sportsmen's Club members demonstrated suitable hunting clothing and safe gun handling, and high school students joined in the discussion.

Young hunters of the Menominee mid-county area will not shoot first and ask questions afterward. Gun safety calls for a good safety education campaign.

Add to the list of successful first-day hunters the name of Grant Way of 1115 Seventh avenue south, Escanaba, who bagged a 150-pound spikehorn about 8 a. m. today.

Way is a member of a hunting party at the Lawrence Richer camp at LaBranche. Others in the party are Frank Barr of Bark River and Frank Wrubel of Chillicothe.

Deer Production—Workers in industry who have saved up their vacation time are now out hunting—with industrial production down as a result. At Harnischfeger plant about 60 per cent of the employees were off today, said Emil Zitner, superintendent.

Among Harnischfeger employees in hunting camp today were Mario Chigi, Lyle Leonard, Wayne Haddock and Connie Lustick at Lustick's camp near Traunick. Zitner himself will head for the opening of the season.

Killed and Wounded—Last fall 25 hunters were killed and 190 were wounded in Michigan.

The hunter's greatest danger is his own gun or those in the hands of members in his own party. Seven victims in fatal hunting accidents were shot by hunting companions.

In the deer season one hunter killed himself and 11 were slain by hunting companions. Careful gun handling can bring those figures down.

Up from the Deep South for the hunting season in Northern Michigan's snow-covered woods is Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Gigla of Covington, Ky., and recently of Mobile, Ala. Mrs. Gigla is a daughter of the Paul Richter camp in the Northland area later in the season.

Sheriff William E. Miron, who seldom comes back without filling his license and last year bagged a big buck, is spending the opening days of the season at the Clint Fosterling camp near Ralph.

Carl Fletcher of Gladstone Rt. 1 appeared early today at conservation headquarters office in Escanaba with a coyote he had killed near Cornell. The animal was so large Fletcher thought it was a wolf. An Escanaba Paper company employee, Fletcher shot and hit the coyote four times.

Road Trouble—Some deer hunters spent last night and the opening day of the season pushing their cars through a sea of mud that formed on back roads in the Round Lake area.

The Black Creek truck trail south of Round Lake, and the Hamilton Lake road, trapped a number of hunters' cars. Conservation officers last night assisted many of them through.

Stay out of the area until a freeze comes—or walk in say the conservation officers.

Five Vanlerberghes and one McLeod are at the Vanlerberghes camp at Round Lake. The Vanlerberghes are Elair, sr., Elair, jr., Harold, Ernest and Reynold, all of Escanaba. The McLeod is James, who came from Iron River to join the party.

The Iron Inn at Ralph, one of the oldest hunting camps in the area, has three of the old gang. L. J. Perrin, G. W. Sullivan and Bob Pryal, in camp, as well as Marshall Perrin, who is a relative youngster in the club membership.

Glenn Billy, Ronald Dittrich, Earl Porath, Ernie Bittner, Ernie Klein, Steve Brayak and John Brayak left yesterday afternoon for Kamp Kilroy near Nahma. The hunting party of seven will remain until Sunday.

Opening day success list includes Richard Good, 19, of Harris, who downed an eight-pointer weighing 125 pounds at 8:30 a. m., near La-Brache.

Success Of Community Chest Campaign Is Big Achievement

THE success of the 1951 Community Chest campaign, officially announced today, is an achievement of distinction. Credit for a good job well done goes to a large army of workers, the county chairman, Nick Chapekis; the city chairmen of Escanaba and Gladstone; the township chairmen, the residential canvass chairmen, those who conducted special phases of the campaign, and, of course, the host of workers who volunteered their time for the cause.

The major credit is earned by the generous people of Delta county who recognized the importance of the Community Chest and who contributed the funds essential to carry on the important work of six participating agencies.

This was a vital year for the Community Chest. If the drive failed, it meant that the single campaign idea for supporting the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Michigan Children's Aid, Salvation Army and Cod Liver Oil Fund would receive a mortal blow. The Community Chest was abandoned for several years because it had become increasingly difficult to meet the necessary financial goals. It was revived this year by popular demand. The ultimate success, announced today, shows that the people of Delta county have learned, by sad experience, that multiple drives are inefficient and a waste of manpower.

An even more important aspect of the success of this year's Community Chest campaign is the fact that it points the way for even wider participating in the Red

UN Faces Dilemma

If Truce Talks Fail

FOR exactly one-fourth of a year we have been endeavoring to negotiate a truce with the Communists in Korea. In the annals of war, this must be close to a record. But it has not appeared to bring us too much closer to the goal we seek—a real end to the fighting.

At all times speculation has ranged the gamut, from the belief the Reds do indeed want a truce to the conviction that their council table game is nothing but another tactic in the war itself.

The weight of evidence leans toward support of those who feel the Communists would like to halt the conflict, or at least transfer it to the political arena. Their losses of men and material are well known. They have grudgingly loosened their grip on a fat slice of Red territory. The glum report of their failure has been read in every capital.

Today their enterprise in limited aggression does not stand high. It has not paid the hoped-for dividends. Worse, it is a burden and a handicap.

All this is beyond the realm of opinion. Yet there can be no proof that the Communist negotiators are honestly seeking truce. The dogged persistence with which they deflect the negotiations into side paths just when they seem headed for decisive progress is bound to stir doubts.

Lately correspondents have been refreshing our minds on the Reds' cynical use of the truce in their war against the Chinese Nationalists. Time and again a truce was dangled invitingly in front of the Nationalists' eyes, but always the carrot turned out to be booby-trapped. The Communists simply seized the chance afforded by the lull to build up for another attack.

If this is really their purpose at Panmunjom, the supporting evidence is not so easy to discern. Our military leaders do report a build-up on the Communist side. But they are emphatic in declaring it insufficient to sustain an effective assault against our forces.

Perhaps the spring will see more fevered preparation for attack, though everything suggests such a purpose must necessarily hinge on more generous aid from Russia than the Chinese and North Koreans have yet had.

It could be, however, that winning all Korea by force of arms is no longer within the scope of Communist aims. Their present goals may be cheaper and easier of attainment—to keep the United States and its UN Allies deeply mired in the mud of indecisive battle.

Stalemate obviously can tie up our forces as thoroughly as smashing offensive warfare. And the Reds may always hope that time will destroy the patience of the American people, compelling us either to strike harder—in dangerous disregard of other vital fronts—or to settle on terms which might give the Communists political leverage they could not gain by arms.

If you rule out the likelihood of a genuine truce, as many are doing, then our dilemma is a great one. Anyone who pretends otherwise is dodging reality. Conflict with Communists is like no other. Its shape is vague, its forms are many, its rules are new with each day. And possibly it is endless.

Dismal Dollar

There is scarcely anything these days that doesn't rise in price, and to try and make ends meet, we surely have to sacrifice. Meats and groceries are plenty high and so are clothes we wear, and our taxes and inflation we regard with much despair. And of all the things we use there is but one that's left in town, which, instead of going up, is very sadly going down.

It's that plain old buck—the dollar, that is going down so fast, that we wonder how much longer it can ever hope to last. Let 'em hike the price of other stuff but that is not the end, for the dollar hasn't any choice and simply must descend. So it seems each day our honored buck which fondly we care, must be doomed to buy no more and more, but bring home less and less.

When it once would buy a lot of steak, it now has lost its touch, and it limps so bad in any store, it ought to have a crutch. It's forever losing value and it's surely lost its luck, for the day is long forgotten when a buck was a buck. And when other things keep going up, there's one thing going down—

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Governor Dewey did not meet secretly with Eisenhower at the Waldorf as reported last week. A Broadway columnist got that one mixed with a Waldorf meeting which did take place between Dewey, Senator Duff of Pennsylvania, Herbert Brownell, the Dewey GOP mentor, and Gen. Lucius Clay. Georgia-born Clay, a lifelong Democrat, is now in the Eisenhower camp. The meeting discussed ways and means of rounding up delegates despite the fact that Ike cannot declare until next spring. . . . There's not the slightest question but that Ike started life as a Democrat. His first speech at the age of 18 at Abilene, Kansas, was at a Jackson day dinner. . . . Tafties are suspected of putting a neat one over on Arthur Krock. He reported that Ike would come over to the Taft side if the senator would desert the isolationists. . . . It now seems certain that Ike will face President Truman in the Oregon primary—whether he likes it or not. He will also face Taft in the Republican side of that primary. Ike's name has been entered on both the GOP and Demo tickets, which makes Oregon the most significant test of political strength in the country—namely, Eisenhower vs. Taft and Eisenhower vs. Truman.

The people of Delta county and those who directed and participated in the 1951 Community Chest campaign can be proud of their achievement. Their only reward is the satisfaction in meeting the financial needs of agencies that are doing their part in making Delta county a better place in which to live.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Dictator Franco may be scratching the bottom of the barrel back in Spain, but he seems to have plenty of dough to spend on lobbying in Washington. Chief Franco lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark sometimes passes out $20 tips to Mayflower hotel waiters when ordering sandwiches and coffee. . . . Down in Texas, they are not feeling so lush. The City of Houston has been struggling for some months to raise $8,510.55 to pay its entertainment bill for Douglas MacArthur. Glenn McCarthy, the Houston hotel owner, is even putting the bite on San Antonio, Ft. Worth and Austin to help out, while in Athens, Texas, (noted for peaches, peas, potatoes, peanuts, pigs, pottery, petroleum and pinning) the folks auctioned off one can of black-eyed peas to help Glenn McCarthy. The can sold for $1.93. . . . Chief expense of the MacArthur trip was a special airplane rented from Eastern Airlines. . . . Taft forces don't seem one bit impoverished. They have retained Julius Klein, who finessed the rank of brigadier general in the Army and the presidency of the Jewish War Veterans, into a lucrative public relations business. Klein, also retained by Pan American Airways, was being headline-hunting for Taft.

It has been proposed by at least one oil company that the city-owned property be made available for oil storage tanks. However, the city does have considerable land on the west side of the highway that could be utilized for this purpose. Admittedly it would require a pipe line from the waterfront but that is not an impossibility, nor an excessively costly undertaking. Another possibility for oil storage is the property on the extreme north end, east of the highway.

The important thing is to make the best possible use of the property and to be certain that it is not whacked up in small parcels that eliminate the opportunity to attract an industry with a potentially large payroll.

Four days before our Thanksgiving, the people of Cuba, for the first time in their history, will celebrate their own Thanksgiving day on November 18. . . . While Cuba does not have over three hundred years of tradition behind their celebration as do we, the basic idea of Thanksgiving day should not be limited to any one country.

For the Pilgrim fathers established Thanksgiving day to thank God for helping them survive a difficult year in a free world. . . . The Cuban people share our Democratic birthright, and it is an important step toward the universality of Thanksgiving giving that they should wish to count their blessings of free thought and free speech on a day set aside for their specific purpose. . . . So this year they start a tradition which should live forever with the freedom-loving people of the republic of Cuba.

Opportunities To Make Fortunes Still Exist

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—A new corporation was born here the other day—an advertising agency. The gold letters are on the door of the Chanin Bldg. now, the telephones are in, the typewriters are installed, and the sole proprietor is undergoing all the birth pangs of any young boss of a new business. Which is to say he's sweating, and will continue to sweat. All his life he will sweat, no matter how successful he becomes.

Sweat is getting to be a fairly scarce commodity. In a time which is obsessed with gimmicks, a gill of honest perspiration is getting rarer and rarer. So is the inclination to gamble on yourself. Preoccupation is with security, especially among the young.

I have followed this young man for a couple of years now. Met him down in Texas when he was an account executive for the bustling firm of Ruthrauff and Ryan, Inc. He was a very short distance out of the mail room, then a $30-a-week job which occupied his days, while he was commuting to Philadelphia to finish out an education that had been interrupted by four years of war. He did all his studying on the train, to and from New York and Philly.

Big Job at 27

He didn't stay in the mail room very long. He busted out, and it wasn't long before he was handling about four million bucks' worth of other people's advertising money. That was when he got made a vice-president of R. and R., before he was 27.

You would think that young David J. Mahoney, ex-infantry captain, recent vice-president, would have been content with VP's pay and a stout expense account and a little hunk of stock and a bonus, and a very fat future with the firm. He had already hit it good, when most youngsters are still striving to crack the outer edges of a career.

But there is a curious itch in some people, an itch to see how high the moon is.

Dave figured that if he could work positively for somebody else he could work positively for himself, so he laid himself on the line. You only make one mistake in the tricky advertising business; Dave was willing to bet he wouldn't make that mistake. One of his best accounts was willing to go along on the same kind of faith. Others he accumulated.

Now here is one of the funny things about big, tough business. When he quit his old firm nobody was sure, which would usually be the case. His former employers pitched him a party, gave him a resounding sendoff with good wishes, and contributed the unexpected, handsome present. It was as if, all of a sudden, vast R. and R. remembered how everybody gets started.

So now the new gold letters are on the door, and the boy is beginning to roll. I hope he rolls fast and far, if only as an object lesson that it can still be done if you've got the heart and the git-up-and-go.

More Success Stories

You hear an awful lot of low moans from the youth of today, who see no future for themselves, and you also hear a lot of louder moans from the elders who are frightened of losing what they've gained. The success story is downplayed; we are building up to another Scott Fitzgerald age, where the men grow long hair, drink warm gin and pity themselves in

Big Loan Approved To Tap Low-Grade Copper In Peninsula

By CHARLES BARRETT

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.) said the Reconstruction Finance Corporation approved today a $57,185,000 loan to open up a vast new supply of critically scarce copper in northern Michigan.

The loan to finance mining of copper ore deposits of the White Pine mine is the biggest by the RFC since World War Two. Development of these deposits—the nation's biggest untapped copper resource—has been an on-again, off-again, project for the last year.

The RFC told Bennett that RFC Administrator W. Stuart Symington okayed the loan this morning as part of the defense program.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A proposed $57,000,000 loan to open up a vast new supply of critically scarce copper comes up for final decision and probable approval by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) today.

Authorities said the loan, if granted, would be the biggest by the RFC since World War II.

It would finance mining of low-grade copper ore deposits at the White Pine mine in northern Michigan. Development of these deposits—the nation's biggest untapped copper resource—has been an on-again, off-again, project for some time.

Proposal Revised

The Copper Range Mining company is seeking the loan as part of the defense production program. Company officials arranged to be in Washington today to meet with RFC administrator W. Stuart Symington who, it was learned, will make the final decision.

A larger loan proposal by Copper Range was rejected last September on technical grounds. Indications then were that a revised protest might be acceptable.

The new proposal calls for maximum production of 70,000,000 pounds of copper annually, within three years. This would be about 2½ per cent of wartime copper consumption.

Methods Improved

The project has been considered and turned down in past years because the low grade of ore made it economically unsound. Officials cited three reasons for a more favorable attitude toward the program now:

1. The nation's critical need for more copper. Copper is probably the most scarce of all defense materials, especially from a long-term view. Civilian use of copper has been cut back sharply.

2. Copper prices have risen. Thus, while the project might have been uneconomical at the World War II prevailing price of 11.8 cents a pound, or even the pre-Korea price of 19 cents a pound, it might be worthwhile now when copper is bringing 24.5 cents per pound, it might be worthwhile now when copper is bringing 24.5 cents per pound.

3. New methods have been developed for processing low-grade copper ore which would bring the White Pine project in line with costs of producing copper elsewhere.

Gladwin Farm Boy Accused Of Killing His Step-Sister, 14

GLADWIN, Mich.—(AP)—A 17-year-old farm youth was held today for investigation of murder in the shotgun death of his 14-year-old schoolgirl step-sister.

Gladwin County Sheriff Arthur Kelley said he would ask a murder warrant against the youth, Harry Mitchell.

The sheriff said young Mitchell shot and killed his step-sister, Marie Mitchell, a student at Beaverfoot high school with a .20 gauge shotgun yesterday afternoon.

Gladwin County Sheriff Arthur Kelley said he would ask a murder warrant against the youth, Harry Mitchell.

The mixture was found by an inspector after a complaint that a restaurant was selling hamburg containing venison. Miles A. Nelson, chief of the department bureau of marketing and enforcement said tests on samples turned up the horsemeat.

Pleading "I only wanted to scare her," Mitchell insisted the gun was discharged accidentally.

But state police and the sheriff said the shooting was deliberate.

Harlan Hatchers Getting Settled In Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR—The president of the University of Michigan is beginning to feel "at home" on the campus.

The final touches in settling the President's House on South University Ave. are just about complete for Dr. and Mrs. Harlan Hatcher and their children, Robert, 7, and Anne Linda, 5.

During their first weeks on the campus, the Hatchers lived at the Michigan Union and later "camped out" in the confusion of painters, furniture movers and other workmen as the work of redecorating the house was completed.

This week will see the last details completed and an open house has been announced for Sunday, Nov. 18, from 3 to 6 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m.

Done under the supervision of Miss Helen Stafford, interior decorator from Detroit, the redecorating and refurnishing of the house has made interesting use of the traditional and modern.

Restored modern furniture of lasting line and design has been included in complete harmony with the Georgian background of the house. Throughout, genuine antique pieces from Mrs. Hatcher's family have been placed in strategic positions.

Carefully restored, these pieces include a crocheted mahogany Victorian sofa, a love seat also of the Victorian era and a fine secretary, all in the drawing room, and a mahogany chest in the dining room.

Dramatic Reading Of 'September Tide' At Club Meeting

Members of the Escanaba Woman's club enjoyed one of the most unusual and fascinating programs of the season at their meeting yesterday in Westminster Hall of the First Presbyterian church, with attendance excellent in spite of wind and snow.

Mrs. Mary Marguerite Arens of Green Bay presented a fine interpretive dramatic reading of the play, "September Tide" by De Maurier. The difficult task of portraying all characters was effectively done and gave the audience a feeling of continuity and complete interest. This was aided by Mrs. Arens' explanation of characters and their personalities.

She also compared "September Tide" with a play of an opposite nature, "Hilda Crane" by Raphaels.

In addition to a full schedule of dramatic readings Mrs. Arens maintains studios for speech in the Y. W. C. A. and St. Joseph Academy for Girls in Green Bay. Summers are spent teaching in the Arens Art Colony summer school of music and drama, founded by the late Mr. Arens at Edelwhite near Sturgeon Bay.

The program was followed by a tea arranged by the committee of the day, Mrs. Clarence Zerbel, chairman, Mrs. John Bissell, Mrs. Kryn Bloom, Mrs. F. C. Cayen, Mrs. D. S. Coon, Mrs. William Ehner, Mrs. Mike Farrell, Mrs. C. G. Friets, Mrs. Merton Jensen, Mrs. Robert McCormick, Mrs. George Marquiller and Mrs. O. V. Thatcher. The tea table was attractively decorated with a hunting motif surrounded by white and green.

Turks Fear Russia May Try To Outflank Them

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

ANKARA, Turkey — (NEA) —

Gen. Nuri Yumut, chief of staff of the Turkish army, points to the area between the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea on a big map in his office in the Defense Ministry. "We can look at the map and see what would be the logical moves for the Russians to make," he says. First would be an attack towards Europe, on the west. Second would be a move to invade the Middle Eastern area between the Black and Caspian Seas."

An examination of any map of this area will show that the western half of this area is made up of the Turkish border. The eastern half is the border of Iran. Turkish armed forces are generally conceded to be strong. Iranian forces are not. This situation points clearly to the direction from which a Soviet attack might be expected to come.

It would push easily through northwestern Iran, then attempt to turn the flank of the Turkish defense. The route of invasion of Turkey's northeastern frontiers would be through Kars, in east-central Turkey. This has been the historic route of two previous Russian invasions of Turkey.

On this eastern front is believed the Russians have some 32 divisions. They are made up of Azerbaijan, Georgian and Armenian troops, commanded by Russian officers. While the people of these three Russian states are believed to be restless under Soviet domination, the Turks are under no tense command, with Turkey as its keystone, indicates that our Allies in this area will defend the right flank of General Eisenhower's NATO army from the possible Russian aggression described by General Yumut.

delusions over any possibility of revolt.

Face Red Satellites

To the west of the Black Sea on Turkey's second front, the Turks face another 11 to 14 divisions. This is in Turkey-in-Europe, west of the Bosphorus, in what is known as Thrace, or the Macedonian plain. The troops opposing the Turks here are Bulgarians.

Turkish estimate of these Russian satellite forces is that they would fight well as long as they were winning, but would quickly disintegrate if the tide of battle turned against them. The question for the Turks is how much Russian strength, particularly air strength, might be thrown in to support the Bulgarians.

An extension of this west Turkish front is the Greek-Bulgarian border. What this extended frontier points up is the need for unified Greek-Turkish defense west of the Bosphorus, clear to the Yugoslav border.

So far, unified Greek-Turkish operations in this area and in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization of Western Europe at the NATO Council meeting in Rome at the end of November may further a unified defense plan for the whole area.

The recent announcement, by the U. S., France, Great Britain and Turkey, of the establishment of a four-power Middle East delivery command, with Turkey as its keystone, indicates that our Allies in this area will defend the right flank of General Eisenhower's NATO army from the possible Russian aggression described by General Yumut.

DANGEROUS GAS

Carbon monoxide gas cannot be smelled, and that makes it very dangerous. It is formed as a result of incomplete combustion. When carbon burns, one atom normally unites with two atoms of oxygen to form carbon dioxide, which is not poisonous. If there is insufficient oxygen, only one atom unites with a carbon atom and the result is carbon monoxide.

A special dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce is to be held at the Lincoln Hotel on Tuesday, Dec. 11 at which time a member of the board of trustees of Memorial Hospital at Manistique will be invited to speak and tell of procedure used at Manistique to obtain a hospital for that city.

The matter of a hospital for Gladstone was discussed during the evening and the hospital committee has started to work. On the committee are H. T. Brewer, Grier Ivory, Phil Hupy, Claire Hoehn, and Don Buckmaster, city, and Dr. Charles Kee and Rev. A. T. Hoffmann.

A contribution of $25.00 was voted to the Gladstone high school band instrument fund. Fifteen dollars will be given at a time when the band makes an appearance at some function upon the request of the Chamber of Commerce and ten dollars when a smaller group from the band makes a C-C requested appearance.

It was emphasized that the Coffee Hour and the Chamber of Commerce operate entirely independent of each other and that the Coffee Hour should operate as an individual organization.

Directors attending the session were Wallace Cameron, A. C. Peterson, Charles Burton, J. E. Ulrich, Oliver Gabrielson, Walter Lied, R. A. Watson, J. L. Jacobson and Theophil Hoffmann.

Drinks His Last Beer
Alone, With Poison

HOUSTON — (AP) — Clifford L. Sevin, 61-year-old jewelry engraver, was drinking his beer alone in tavern yesterday.

He turned to the group at the bar and invited them to have one on him.

"This'll be my last one," he told them.

No one accepted.

A few minutes later the bartender noticed Sevin gulp the remainder of his beer, then fall over.

When homicide detectives D. M. Fuels and F. Crittenden arrived, a patron handed them an envelope picked up from beside the fallen man. The detectives said it contained cyanide of potassium, a poison used in engraving.

Rubbish Fire
Causes Alarm

Firemen were called to the Cliff LeDuc home at 1521 Minnesota avenue Wednesday afternoon to extinguish a small fire which started in some debris in the basement. The only damage was caused by smoke.

Fire Chief Carl Johnson said a chimney fire caused a backfire, sparks from which smoldered in waste near the chimney.

Seven Brothers Work At Inland

Have Employment Record Of 55 Years

Seven brothers with a total employment record of 55 years are on the payroll of the Inland Lime and Stone company, it is revealed in the October issue of Inland News, published in Chicago.

The article follows:

An unusual employment record at the Lime and Stone company operations is that of the seven McGregor brothers.

All of these brothers are married and reside in the Gulliver area. There are 15 children in the family, 10 boys and five girls, all of whom are living. The father, a pioneer settler in Schoolcraft county, accidentally lost his life in a deer hunting accident about 25 years ago while his family was young. Much credit can be given their spry little mother, alive and in good health today, for raising the family.

The total employment record of these seven brothers is approximately 55 years.

Below is the number of years each has worked at Inland:

Wallace McGregor, dump boss, 16 years.

Charles McGregor, mechanic, 16 years.

Warren McGregor, deckhand, five years.

Angus McGregor, car repairman, seven years.

Glenn McGregor, electrician's helper, five years.

Fred McGregor, truck driver, four years.

Edwin McGregor, tunnelman, two years.

Josh Billings, the famous American humorist, was the pseudonym of Henry Wheeler Shaw. In his writings, he posed as an uneducated, but shrewd, rustic, whose homespun philosophy became very popular.

80TH BIRTHDAY — Mrs. Bertha Cookson, widow of the late Frank Cookson, celebrated her 80th birthday anniversary Monday evening at her home, 306 Main street. The evening was informally spent with a few close friends and with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cookson. Mrs. Cookson has been a resident of Manistique for 70 years, coming here on a sailboat with her family in 1881 when she was 10 years of age. Her husband for many years was prominent in lumbering, business and civic activities here. (Photo by Linderoth)

Will Give Band Concert Nov. 28

Two High School Units To Perform

Senior and junior bands of Manistique high school will present the first of a series of concerts on Wednesday evening, Nov. 28, in the high school auditorium, it is announced by Joseph Giovannini, director.

The concert is scheduled for 8 p. m.

The junior band, numbering 30 persons, is composed almost entirely of beginning students who for the most part have been playing only since last summer. Only three students in the band were members last year.

The senior band, which recently completed a successful season as a football marching unit, has been working diligently on the concert program during the last three weeks, Giovannini reported.

"There will be a variety of numbers on the program to suit every taste", the director said, "including stirring marches for those who like their music with a martial swing, overtures for soothing melodies, waltzes for those who dance, and the ever popular swing music for the 'jive' crowd."

Among the numbers will be the following marches: Alhambra Grotto, Iowa Band Law, Lee's Favorite, Yam, and El Capitan. The overtures will include Omar Khayyam, Old Vienna and Majesty. The ever popular German melodies will be combined in a medley, German Melodies, and will include such favorites as Where O Where, Ach Du Lieber, and Hi Le, Hi Lo.

A new offering will be a brass quartet composed of two trumpets and two baritones. The quartet will be composed of James Monroe, Herbert Peterson, Mary Ella Giovannini and Catherine Hall.

The public is invited to attend the service, which is another of the church's Loyalty Month activities.

Three Hunters Get Dunking In Handle Factory Hot Pond

Three Otsego hunters got an unexpected wetting in the Northwoods Manufacturing company "hot pond" about 8:15 Tuesday night when they attempted to drive around the plant in their car.

They told city police later that they got into the plant area by making a wrong turn on Main street, and then attempted to swing back to the eastside business district by following a road around the factory.

Steam rising from the pond was mistaken for fog, they reported, and they drove into it with disastrous results.

The front end of their car dropped into about three feet of steamy water. All of them had to wade through the pond to get back to dry ground.

The water, fortunately, had cooled considerably following the day's operations at the plant.

The driver of the car, Irving Dennis, was ticketed for failure to have his car under control and yesterday morning paid a fine of $15 in local justice court. The cost assessed was $3.75.

REMOVES RANCIDITY

In India, rancid butter is said to be rendered sweet by boiling it with leaves of the horseradish tree according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Vocal numbers on the program will be by Jean Carlson, who also is a member of the band.

He will serve until the 1952 school election, slated for next June.

The board at its regular session Tuesday evening also authorized the purchase of tables and seating equipment for Riverside school, scheduled to be reopened in September, 1952. Included will be tables and chairs for the kindergarten room and seats for two other grade rooms.

Coal bids also were awarded at the session, with the Manistique Lumber and Coal company having the lowest price on 350 tons of slack meeting board specifications and the Girvin Coal & Dock company on 50 tons of lump and slack for Lakeside school. Three bidders submitted prices.

The board's purchasing committee reported that the plumbing contract for Riverside school had been awarded to R. D. Curley whose price, $579, was the lowest of four submitted. All bidders quoted on Kohler equipment.

The sale of an old pressure pump and attendance of Principal Carl Olson at a state principals' meeting in late November also were approved.

Preparations are under way for a full-scale recreational program for the winter months just ahead in Escanaba. Art Petersen, city recreation director, said today that work has been started on the indoor ice rink at the Exhibition building at the fairgrounds. When the rink is completed—late in December—facilities will be available for senior and junior hockey, general skating and the annual ice revue.

It is hoped that the junior hockey program here this winter will take hold even better than last year. If possible, one of the Escanaba Hawks players will be in charge of the program. Senior hockey is again planned this winter, although the league organizational meeting has not yet been called. We understand that the announcement we carried the other day concerning a meeting in Houghton Sunday was not official and was not made by the league president. Our information came from an item in the Houghton Mining Gazette.

In addition to the indoor rink, skaters will be accommodated at three outdoor rinks that will be opened as soon as weather permits. Rinks will be set up at the Webster playgrounds, Royce Park and the Junior high school. Additional sites may be added later.

Again this winter the Ski Hill area will be available for use by ski enthusiasts. General skiing will be the only activity as facilities for jumping are lacking. Roads to the site, which has been a popular recreation area in past years, will be plowed when necessary.

Indoor recreation facilities will also begin soon. The department and schools are considering a basketball program for youngsters. Adult and junior archery activities will begin at Club 314 as soon as deer season is over. And a winter boxing program is being considered. In all, there should be no lack of recreation activities here when winter sets in for good.

Lightweight Champ Carter Whips Challenger Aragon

LOS ANGELES—(P)—World lightweight champion Jimmy Carter and challenger Art Aragon observed contrasting celebrations today.

Carter enjoyed a round of victory toasts after successfully defending his crown in a bruising 15-round fight last night. Aragon, the slightly tarnished golden boy of boxing here, in more subdued fashion belatedly observed his 24th birthday.

Aragon's birthday was two days ago, but he had planned to combine it with a victory celebration after last night's battle. Instead the big party was on Central Avenue, Los Angeles' counterpart of New York's Harlem.

Down Twice

Carter belted out a unanimous decision over Aragon, flooring him twice and leaving him well beaten at the end.

Referee Mushy Callahan and Judge Frankie Van gave the fight to Carter by an 11-point spread. Judge Joe Stone put the Gotham Negro ahead by 12 points.

Paid admissions totaled 7,251 and gross receipts, including $35,000 for television rights, were $109,463, at least $20,000 less than had been expected.

A star-studded and uproarious crowd, as well as a national television audience going into many thousands, witnessed the title clash. Jack Dempsey, Leo Durocher, Joe DiMaggio, Mickey Walker, Joey Maxim, Barney Ross, Bob Hope, football coach Joe Stydahar and Capt. Bob Waterfield of the Los Angeles Rams turned out for the fracas.

Aragon, as cocky as ever, and fresh, took the play in the opening rounds and the outlook seemed dark for the 27-year-old champion. But Aragon ran into a bristling left hook that floored him for a three-count in the sixth round, and he took a severe beating in the last four rounds. It left him with one eye almost shut and the other cut and bloody.

Aragon, as game as they come, absorbed fearful punishment in

Spartans Gloomy As Dorow Hospitalized

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (P)—A cloud of worry hung over the Michigan State college campus today.

Al Dorow, number one quarterback of the number one football team in the nation is in the hospital.

There was a question of whether Dorow—who masterminded the Spartans to their shocking 35-0 shutout against Notre Dame—would be back and at his best against unpredictable Indiana.

Dorow checked into the college hospital yesterday along with several of his MSC fraternity brothers. Dr. Charles F. Holland, the team physician, explained the ailment as "an intestinal upset."

Going Around

"There's been a lot of it going around," Dr. Holland said. "Generally it's a one-day business and not serious. We hope he'll be out by tomorrow and able to play Saturday."

There was a complication, however, because Dorow is allergic to most forms of medical treatment. Dr. Holland said he planned to give him fluids through the night and hope for a swift recovery.

Dorow's ailment put the spotlight on Tom Yewcic, the 19-year-old sophomore passer, and number two quarterback.

Princeton Coach Asks Bowl Games Be Banned

NEW YORK—(P)—The 1950 "coach of the year," Princeton's Charlie Caldwell, called for the outlawing of all bowl games today while the men who direct college athletics plunged headlong into the battle against football overemphasis.

Caldwell, whose Ivy League

Princetonians have won 20 straight games, defended the merits of spring practice and said the sport would have no problems with commercialism if post-season games were eliminated.

"If a team is good, it goes to a bowl and gets money to buy players so it can keep going to bowls," the coach added.

Meanwhile, there were these other developments on the bristling college football front:

Developments

1. The council of the national collegiate athletic association called a meeting in Chicago for next Monday and Tuesday to formulate a definite program for the control of athletics.

2. Twenty-one of 31 schools in the mid-western area okayed recommendations of the NCAA to restrict the two-platoon system, bowl games and spring practice. Every member of the Missouri Valley and big seven conference, except Missouri and Iowa State was included on the deemphasized list.

3. Georgia's board of regents discussed the same NCAA report without taking any action.

4. Presidents of the 12 southeastern conference colleges decided to meet in Birmingham Sunday to discuss "how we might better keep the athletic program under control."

5. Navy coach Eddie Erdelatz, commenting on Yale's decision to discard spring practice, said these

Claassen Picks Michigan State, Badgers To Win

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK—(P)—Halfbacks and drawbacks . . . Homecomings and short comings . . . Footballs and highballs . . . Long roses and broken noses . . . Winners and losers . . . All are parts of the football season.

So here are the winners and losers for this weekend's games:

Tennessee over Mississippi: The next three Saturdays will show if Tennessee is a great or simply a good team. Kentucky and Vanderbilt follow on the Vol schedule. Chances are Tennessee is about two touchdowns too strong for Mississippi.

Michigan State over Indiana: Too much to expect Michigan State to keep the edge it won last week in blanking Notre Dame, but only half the amount will be needed to handle the Hoosiers.

Alabama over Georgia Tech: Tech already has been invited to the Orange bowl—and it is a good thing. Alabama was the September choice to be unbeaten when the coming game started but it lost five of nine.

Princeton over Yale: Dick Kazmaier and his playmates annex the Big Three title for the fifth straight year. The Yales could be tougher than expected.

Illinois over Ohio State: The Illini to win but Janowicz to shine brighter than Karras in their private duel for All-America honors.

Maryland over North Carolina State: The best means of stopping the split-T attack is a pair of fast charging linemen. North Carolina State has them but not enough to beat Maryland.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: Coach Bud Wilkinson never has lost a Big Seven game, so why should he start now?

Kentucky over George Washington: Kentucky has the nation's second strongest defense plus Babe Parilli. That is more than enough.

Wisconsin over Iowa: The Iowans are the nicest guests anyone could have. They never win, seldom cause opponents much concern.

Texas over Texas Christian: The difference between these two clubs can be covered by an ordinary sombrero. The home field gives the Longhorns a one-point edge.

Packers in Bad Shape For Game With Bears

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The Green Bay Packers are in bad shape for their 67th meeting with the Chicago Bears in Wrigley Field Sunday afternoon. Kickoff is set for 1:30.

Sixteen players came out of last night's bruising game against the Pittsburgh Steelers with injuries and X-rays were needed to probe three of the athletes—Quarterback Bobby Thomson, Halfback Billy Grimes and Guard Buddy Burris.

Coach Gene Ronzani revealed that three or four of the injured are "doubtful starters." All of them will be handicapped, the mentor announced.
